

2007

Strategic Plan Summary

1. Youth Programming

Goals: Latino Youth gain English language and life skills throughout the year.

Strategies: Provide high quality after school programming for K-12 ESL students. Offer a wide variety of summer activities that build language and social skills.

2. Spanish Language Classes

Goals: Earned income strategy while building a stronger community through language acquisition and exchange.

Strategies: Offer a fee for service Spanish class to the local community and interested businesses.

3. Health Education Programming

Goals: All Latinos have access to important health information in their primary language.

Strategies: Host requested health education workshops at our center or other appropriate spaces. All materials are presented in a culturally and linguistically sensitive manner.

4. Complete Needs Assessment

Goals: To better understand the needs of the Latino community in order to inform our planning and evaluation.

Strategies: Hire Latino high school students to conduct written and oral interviews and compile data.

MANO EN MANO

ANNUAL REPORT 2007

The Year in Review

- Hosted six women's health workshops.
- Expanded scope of after school program to include workshops lead by community members.
- Successfully taught a well attended Spanish class in Machias area.
- Successfully completed community needs assessment.
- Piloted adult English as second language classes at Mano en Mano.
- Expanded our collaborations with other area agencies.

Message from the President

The year 2007 marked another year of growth and successes on many fronts for Mano en Mano. Our After School Program served 22 Latino youth, providing homework help, educational workshops, field trips, and enrichment activities.

Thanks to many generous donors, we were able to send five high school students to a month of intensive English study at the University of Maine's IEL summer program.

Health workshops, community potlucks, and a well-attended Mother's Day celebration offered additional opportunities for education, community building and fun in 2007.

With the ongoing support of the community, Mano en Mano will continue working to provide health, educational, and advocacy services to the Latino population of coastal Washington County.
